PREFACE

Over the years, a strong Science & Technology infrastructure has been established in the country. This covers a chain of national laboratories, specialised research centres, various R&D and academic institutions, research and training centre and others. Various policy measures and structure have also been evolved from time to time to meet the changing industrial and technological requirement of the country.

Government of India announced rationalization of Customs Duty exemption vide Notification No. 51/96- Customs Dated 23.07.1996 to Public Funded Research Institutions and others. As per the notification, public funded research institutions or IITs or Indian Institute of Science Bangalore or Regional Engineering Colleges (RECs) other than a hospital should have a valid registration with Department of Scientific and Industrial Research (DSIR) for availing customs duty exemption on imports for research purpose. Vide Notification No.10/97-Central Excise dated 01.03.1997 public funded research institutions or IITs or Indian Institute of Science Bangalore or Regional Engineering Colleges (RECs) other than a hospital should have a valid registration with Department of Scientific and Industrial Research (DSIR) for availing Central Excise duty exemption on domestic purchases for research purpose. The items covered under these notifications are scientific & technical instruments, apparatus and equipment (including computers), as also accessories & spare parts thereof, consumables and computer software, Compact Disc Read Only Memory (CD ROM), recoded magnetic tapes, micro-films, micro-fiches and prototypes exclusively for research purposes only.

Vide Notification No. 28/2003-Customs dated 01.03.2003, Ministry of Finance has amended the notification no. 51/96-Customs dt. 23.07.1996. As per the amendment, Department & Laboratories of Central Government and State Government (other than a hospital) do not need to register with DSIR for availing customs duty exemption on imports for research purposes. The Head of the Institution can issue a certificate of essentiality for the imports for research purposes. Accordingly, institutions falling in the above categories have been advised by DSIR that they do not need to submit application for registration and renewal of registration in future. However, for availing Central Excise Duty exemption on domestic purchases for research purposes, these institutions may submit application for registration and renewal of registration to DSIR.

A directory of registered Public Funded Research Institutions was earlier brought out in April 2016. Thereafter, a number of institutions have been registered and some have been lapsed. The present directory covers 532 institutions with their names, addresses, DSIR registration number and period of validity of registration.

The main purpose of bringing out this directory is to provide a reference source to various industries, Government Departments, Customs and Excise Department and others who may like to take the opportunity of initiating interaction with the institutions in various disciplines of scientific and /or industrial research. Although, due care has been taken to correctly indicate the period of registration in the directory, in case of any anomaly, actual registration letter should be referred to.
